General Theme

Cultural diversity: key to a sustainable future

- To explore through presentations and case studies - in particular the city of Kazan
- The importance of cultural diversity in securing a sustainable future for historic cities

- The 4 themes have been chosen to focus on how cultural diversity:-
 - influences the character of historic cities
 - is under threat in a changing world
 - impacts on the stability and quality of urban life
 - contributes to economic prosperity

What is Sustainability?

- Ability of a town or city to prosper over time - socially, economically and environmentally
 - passing on our inheritance to future generations
 - without endangering the earth's finite resources
 - recognising our cultural inheritance as a finite resource to be nourished and protected

- Historic Towns now facing unprecedented challenges
 - globalisation
 - pace of technological change
 - religious and ethnic intolerance
 - loss of historic fabric and identity
- Historic towns traditionally a model for sustainable management
 - can they respond to the needs of the third millennium?

Why is Cultural Diversity Important

- Identity - architectural expression
 - historic fabric
 - new architecture
- Quality of life -material and non material
- Cultural Tourism and prosperity
- Heart of social, economic and environmental well being of historic cities

Symposium Aims

- Understand better the importance of differing cultural influences on the identity and prosperity of historic cities
- Explore the balance needed to secure cultural diversity and sustainable management
- make policy proposals, produce an agreed charter and strengthen contacts

SUSTAINABILITY

Conclusions

- Richness and breadth of subject - merits widest possible interpretation and discussion
- The challenge we all face is to extend the boundaries of our understanding: to learn from each other
- And when we return to our cities: remember Kazan and most importantly - act on what we have learned
